Election/Restrictions

1. This application is in condition for allowance except for the presence of claims 6-10 directed to the invention of an analyzer non-elected without traverse.
2. Accordingly, claims 6-10 have been cancelled.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 5 and 11 are allowed.

4. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Claim 11 recites a method for increasing the throughput of an analyzer equipped for conducting a number of different assays on a clinical sample. The method is comprised of the steps of providing a source of samples to be analyzed; providing a reaction carousel having reactions cuvettes for containing the samples; providing first, second and third sources of reagents for conducting reactions on the sample; and partitioning the different assays into a (i) a first sub-group of assays consisting only of those assays having the highest frequency of being conducted by the analyzer; (ii) a third sub-group of assays consisting only of those assays having the lowest frequency of being conducted by the analyzer; and (iii) a second sub-group of assays consisting only of those assays not contained in either the first or third sub-groups of assays, wherein the first third source of reagents contains reagents needed for conducting the first, second, and third sub-groups of assays, the second source of reagents consists only of those reagents needed for conducting the first and second sub-groups of assays, and the third first source of reagents consists only of those reagents needed for conducting the first sub-group of assays.

Applicant's amending of claim 11 to include consisting language is sufficient to overcome the previous rejections under Devlin in view of Vuong. The Examiner considers Devlin to be the closest prior art. Devlin teaches an analyzer having a plurality of reagent sources, but does not teach the partitioning step and the reagent sources consisting only of certain reagents.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
